

Building and Sustaining Teams: Corporate Skills, Kingdom Perspective

Sometimes churches decry the 'corporatisation' of the church, fearing that some of the skills from the world of business might damage the vital Kingdom perspective of the Christian community. That need not be the case. Used wisely and prayerfully, business skills can greatly increase the power of a team and a church ministry. The presenters on this day will bring the perspectives of both the business world and church-based ministry, particularly when it comes to leading and developing effective teams.

BIOGRAPHICAL DETAILS OF PRESENTERS:

Peter Murphy

Peter Murphy has been the CEO of Christian Super since early 2008, servicing 19,000+ members and over $570 million in assets. Christian Super has received Money Magazine's "Best Green Super Fund 2011", SuperRatings' "Infinity Award 2010" and Ethical Investor's "Sustainable Super Fund of the Year 2008".

Previous to his appointment at Christian Super, Peter held several senior management roles within Christian faith based organisations and prior to that spent 8 years in funds management with Macquarie Bank. Peter knows firsthand the complex environment and challenges that Christian ministries, schools and institutions face. Peter has served as a Director, Company Secretary and Business Manager for 3 schools, been the Administrative Dean of a Higher Education institution and a Director – Finance for a Christian Ministry. Even broader governance experience has been gained by Peter through his participation on numerous committees and Boards.

Sean Woellner

Sean was raised in Bexley North, in Southern Sydney and become a Christian at 18 years old while attending the local Anglican Church. He now lives in Illawong and is now actively Menai Anglican Church after attending Menai Baptist Church for 20 years.

After studying at UNSW a Degree in Building Sean has spent the next 26 years actively involved in the construction industry. He has held roles of Site Engineer, Construction Manager, Project Manager, Design Manager, National Review Manager, Executive General Manager, CEO and has more recently been appointed non executive Director NBN Tasmania. He has run businesses with over 2000 employees spread across all states of Australia, New Zealand, South Pacific and SE Asia. He has extensive experience in forming and developing groups of people into productive teams focused on delivering outcomes. Sean currently runs his own business providing management and business advice to Industry.

Sean is married to Wendy. They are in the process of raising three teenage children. Nathan (19) is studying Construction Management at UNSW, Joel (17) is studying Ballet in Houston, Texas, and Lyarna (13) is in Year 7 at Inaburra High School.

Sean is a passionate St George-Illawarra Dragons supporter and can be regularly spotted on the hill at Winn Stadium or Kogarah Oval. He still plays hockey and loves to go gem fossicking.

Scott Morrison

Pastor Scott Morrison is the team leader at Georges River Community Baptist Church (Georges River Life Centre) in Southern Sydney. For over a decade Scott has led this faith community in a perpetual evolution of its culture, structure and vision which has undergirded the present exponential growth of the church and its impact in the wider community. Scott and his team have developed a relational/gift-based model of team ministry that creates an environment of innovation, fun and flexibility for staff and key leaders. Scott currently has 4 full time staff and around 10 permanent part time staff. The strong relational leadership culture has nurtured very large and cohesive team ministries throughout the church.

With a professional business background in marketing and management in the financial sector, Scott harnesses skills from both the corporate and ministry worlds, having completed theological studies at Morling College alongside a B.Com. degree.

Scott's ministry passion is seeing faith communities move beyond being functional, to being empowered for kingdom ministry and significantly invested into their local communities. Scott is 39 and is married to Jodie. They have three young children, Sophie, Charlotte and Curtis.
